Before this could be done, however, a muffled pistol shot rang throughout the corridors, and a moment later the housekeeper and several other employes had opened the door and reached Barrett's side. He was unconscious. A new .38caliber revolver with one chamber emptied lay close at hand. A small wound, from which percolated a few drops of blood, one and one-half inches below and to the left of the nipple, told a story. He evidently had not arisen since retiring the night before.
